COMMERCIAL STANDARDS

Commercial Standards may be defined as voluntary recorded standards of the trade, developed through concerted action of producers, distributors, testing laboratories, and consumers. They cover terminology, types, classifications, grades, sizes, and use characteristics of manufactured products, as a basis for clear understanding between buyer and seller. They are made effective by means of voluntary guarantees on invoices and labels or by grade marks on the goods themselves.

SIMPLIFIED PRACTICE RECOMMENDATIONS

A Simplified Practice Recommendation may be defined as a list of sizes, varieties, types, or grades of a specific product which have been selected from the full line of that product, because they are the ones that were in greatest demand at the time of their selection, and are therefore regarded as practical standards of practice. These recommendations are developed cooperatively by the Division of Simplified Practice and the manufacturers, distributors, and users of the given product.
