

The National Bureau of Standards¹ was established by an act of Congress on March 3, 1901. The Bureau's primary goals are to strengthen and advance the nation's science and technology and facilitate the worldwide interchange of information, and, in the end, the Bureau conducts research and provides: (1) a national system of accurate measurements; (2) scientific and technological services for industry and commerce, education and the general public; (3) technical services to promote public safety; and (4) a national system of standards. The Bureau's research work is conducted by the National Measurement Laboratory, the National Center for Environmental Health, the National Institute for Standards and Technology, and the Institute for Materials and Manufacturing Research.

The National Measurement Laboratory

The Laboratory maintains a national system of physical and chemical measurement; maintains close liaison with the measurement systems of other nations and provides technical services leading to accurate and uniform physical and chemical measurements throughout the Nation's scientific community, industry and commerce; provides advisory and research services to other Federal agencies; performs critical physical and chemical research; develops, produces and distributes Standard Reference Materials, and provides calibration services. The Laboratory consists of the following centers:

- Basic Standards²
- Radiation Research
- Chemical Physics
- Analytical Chemistry

The National Engineering Laboratory

The Laboratory provides technology and technical services to the public and private sectors to address national needs and to solve national problems; conducts research in engineering and applied science in support of these efforts; builds and maintains competence in the necessary disciplines required to carry out this research and technical service; develops engineering data and measurement standards; provides engineering measurement traceability services; develops methods and proposes engineering standards and code changes; develops and proposes new engineering practices; and develops and improves mechanisms to transfer results of its research to the ultimate user. The Laboratory consists of the following centers:

- Applied Mathematics
- Electronics and Electrical Engineering²
- Manufacturing Engineering
- Building Technology
- Fire Research
- Chemical Engineering²

The Institute for Computer Sciences and Technology

The Institute researches and provides scientific and technical services to aid Federal agencies in the selection, acquisition, application, and use of computer technology to improve effectiveness and economy in Government operations. In accordance with Public Law 89-306 (40 U.S.C. 759), relevant Executive Orders, and other directives; carries out this mission by managing the Federal Information Processing Standards Program, developing Federal ADP standards guidelines, and managing Federal participation in ADP research and standardization activities; provides scientific and technological advisory services and assistance to Federal agencies; and provides the technical foundation for computer-related policies of the Federal Government. The Institute consists of the following center:

- Programming Science and Technology
- Computer Systems Engineering

The Institute for Materials Science and Engineering

The Institute researches and provides measurements, data, standards, reference materials, quantitative understanding, and other technical information fundamental to the processing, structure, properties and performance of materials; addresses the scientific basis for new advanced materials technologies; plans research and cross-country scientific themes such as nondestructive evaluation and phase diagram development; oversees Bureau-wide technical programs in nuclear reactor radiation research and nondestructive evaluation; and broadly disseminates generic technical information resulting from its programs. The Institute consists of the following Divisions:

- Inorganic Materials
- Fracture and Deformation³
- Polymers
- Metallurgy
- Reactor Radiation

Foreword

Many organizations in the United States are concerned with product certification in one or more of the following ways: (1) administration and direct conduct of certification programs; (2) administration of certification programs through third-party laboratories or inspection organizations, or (3) service as a certifier. For each organization, this directory describes the nature of the participation in certification activities, the products certified, the program requirements, standards used, availability and cost of services, and other relevant information.

This volume culminates one phase of an effort by the National Bureau of Standards to establish databases on certification programs in order to respond to foreign and domestic requests for information. It is designed to serve the needs of Federal agencies that might use private sector programs in lieu of their own. Manufacturers, distributors, state government officials and others may also find this directory to be of value. Subsequent compilations will cover Federal and State certification activities.

Dr. Stanley I. Warshaw
Director, Office of Product
Standards Policy

The editor acknowledges the contributions of Sophie Chumas in assisting to obtain information on private sector organizations for inclusion in this directory, as well as the organizations themselves for providing information on their activities.

The editor also thanks Terry Grimes for her long hours in preparing this volume for publication.

Abstract

This directory presents information from 109 private sector organizations in the United States which engage in product certification activities. Entries describe the type and purpose of each organization, the nature of the activity, product certified, standards used, certification requirements, availability and cost of services, and other relevant details.

This directory is part of an ongoing NBS effort to establish and maintain a comprehensive database on standards, regulations, certification programs and related information. This material has been compiled to meet the needs of government, industry, and the public for information on private sector product certification programs in accordance with the requirements of the U.S. Trade Agreements Act of 1979.

Key Words: Certification, Standards, Testing, Inspection, Grading, Specifications, Product, Approval, Listing, Certifiers

Introduction

Background

The General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT), signed by more than 80 governments is intended to reduce tariffs, eliminate nontariff measures, and remove other trade obstacles to the free flow of international trade. Since 1948, seven rounds of multilateral trade negotiations have been conducted under the auspices of the GATT. The most recent round, from 1973 to 1979, was the most comprehensive and far-reaching negotiation, resulting not only in significant reduction of world tariffs, but also in major agreement on other, nontariff measures. One of these, the Agreement on Technical Barriers to Trade (also known as the "Standards Code"), recognizes the importance of international standards and certification systems for "improving efficiency of production and facilitating the conduct of international trade."

The Standards Code has now been signed by 36 nations and the European Community. In the United States, the Trade Agreements Act of 1979 implemented U.S. acceptance of the Standards Code. Title IV of The Act specifies obligations for the Federal government, including responsibilities bearing on certification. Each Federal agency must assure that foreign products are treated in the same manner as domestic goods. Moreover, the Federal government is to take reasonable measures to promote similar practices by state governments and the private sector. In addition to this general mandate, the Departments of Agriculture and Commerce are charged with specific actions to be carried out with regard to agricultural and non-agricultural products respectively. As one of its responsibilities, the Department of Commerce is required to maintain a center of information on standards and standards-related subjects such as certification.

Role of the National Bureau of Standards Under the Act

The Department of Commerce has designated the International Trade Administration and the National Bureau of Standards (NBS) to carry out departmental responsibilities. The NBS functions are assigned to the Standards Code and Information (SCI) Program in the Office of Product Standards Policy (OPSP).

As part of the SCI program, the National Center for Standards and Certification Information (NCSCI) maintains a reference collection consisting of 240,000 standards, specifications, and related materials. NCSCI exchanges standards information with similar national centers in other countries and responds to requests for information from governmental and private sector organizations, as well as individuals. Besides specifications and standards, NCSCI seeks, maintains, and disseminates information on certification programs and activities as they relate to the application and use of specifications and standards.

Program Objectives

The broad objective of OPSP's efforts related to certification is to improve the accessibility and use of certification programs. Specific objectives include help for interested parties in acquiring information on certification activities and facilitating the development of reciprocal acceptance of certification data by both domestic and foreign jurisdictions.^{1/}

This directory is the result of one phase of the efforts initiated by OPSP to accomplish its certification-related objectives. We believe that it will aid in recognizing the diversity and therefore the complexity of U.S. private sector product certification activities, and will serve as a useful reference for finding out about specific programs operating in the U.S.

Scope of the Directory

This directory summarizes product certification activities of 109 non-governmental organizations based in the United States, including organizations which operate strictly within the U.S. as well as those which operate entirely or in part at an international level or as part of an international program. The directory includes organizations which administer programs and certify that products meet some criteria; administer programs using an independent third-party certifier; or serve as the independent third-party certifier.

This directory includes only product-related certification programs. It does not attempt to address programs certifying services or professional skills, nor does it include programs which do not specify criteria or standards which a product must meet in order to be approved. The information in this directory was based on information provided by the individual organizations. No attempt was made to evaluate or to validate the information provided.

Compilation of Information

Considerable effort was made to be comprehensive. More than 400 organizations were invited to provide information on their certification programs, if any, and documentation concerning the specifics of their programs. The program effort was announced in industry newsletters and in TBT news, published by OPSP. Information for the entries was voluntarily provided by respondents. Although efforts were made to be comprehensive, there may be other organizations involved in certification activities. Such organizations are invited to send pertinent information to:

Administration Building, Room A629

Organizations are encouraged to keep NBS informed of changes in name or address, or in the nature of their programs. In addition to this directory, NBS maintains a publicly accessible reference collection of current materials provided by private sector product certification programs.

Other NCSCI Documents of Possible Interest

In addition to this directory, NCSCI has recently published two related directories:

- NBS SP 649 Directory of International and Regional Organizations Conducting Standards-Related Activities, April, 1983, and
- NBS SP 681 Standards Activities of Organizations in the United States, August, 1984

which provide information on the standards activities of U.S. and International organizations.

NCSCI will soon publish a revision of:

- NBS SP 329 Index of U.S. Voluntary Engineering Standards, May, 1975

which is a listing of U.S. Voluntary Standards based on key words in the title of the standard.

NCSCI is also preparing directories of Federal and State certification programs. Further information on these publications and activities can be obtained from NCSCI at the address listed above.

ORGANIZATION NAME: Air-Conditioning and Refrigeration Institute

ACRONYM: ARI

NATURE OF

ORGANIZATION: Trade association founded in 1903 with a membership of 178 and a staff of 35.

ADDRESS: 1501 Wilson Blvd., Suite 600, Arlington, VA 22209

TELEPHONE NUMBER: 703-524-8800

LOCATIONS OF TESTING FACILITIES: Uses ETL testing facilities located in Cortland, NY.

PURPOSE: To represent the central residential and commercial air-conditioning and refrigeration industry.

CERTIFICATION

FUNCTION(S): Program administrator.

STANDARDS

USED: ARI standards available from ARI.
Also uses UL, ASHRAE, ANSI, AND NFPA standards.

CERTIFICATION

- ACTIVITIES:
1. Retains ETL as the program's testing laboratory.
 2. Requires preliminary random test at ETL.
 3. Requires participation in a periodic random testing program by ETL.
 4. Requires self-certification by the manufacturer that he meets all ARI requirements.
 5. Requires complaint testing in the event of a substantiated complaint by a competitor.
 6. Authorizes use of its mark and publishes approved product directories.
 7. Has a formal appeals procedure.

AVAILABILITY OF SERVICES: Open to all.

COST OF SERVICES: Fees based on size of monthly shipments.

PRODUCTS

CERTIFIED: Outdoor unitary air-conditioning and heat pump equipment rated below 135,000 Btuh; mechanical transport refrigeration units; self-contained, mechanically-refrigerated drinking-water coolers; air-cooling and air-heating coils; central station air-handling units; room fan-coil air conditioners; packaged terminal air-conditioners; packaged terminal heat pumps; water-source heat pumps; unitary air-conditioners; solar collectors; unitary air-source heat pumps.

NO. OF FACTORIES/

FIRMS LISTED/CERTIFIED: Coil lines (21); central station air-handling units (8); packaged terminal air-conditioners (8); packaged terminal heat pumps (8); room fan-coil air-conditioners (10); water-source unitary heat pumps (15); unitary air-conditioners (53); air-source unitary heat pump equipment (43); certified solar collectors (19); transport refrigeration units (2); drinking water coolers (6).

PROGRAM

DOCUMENTATION

AVAILABLE: Certification Program Operational Manuals for each product are available free to the industry.

ORGANIZATION NAME: Air Diffusion Council

ACRONYM: ADC

NATURE OF ORGANIZATION: Trade association founded in 1961 and composed of 19 members.

ADDRESS: 230 North Michigan Avenue, Suite 1200, Chicago, IL 60601

TELEPHONE NUMBER: 312-372-9800

LOCATIONS OF TESTING FACILITIES: Uses approved laboratories of ADC members and ETL testing facilities located in Cortland, NY; E.H. Price Sales Limited in Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada; and Energistics, Inc., Houston, TX.

PURPOSE: To administer industry wide testing and rating standards; to encourage basic research into the behavior of air streams in enclosed areas; to participate in activities related to air terminal device standardization; to conduct research on sound analysis of air distribution equipment.

CERTIFICATION

FUNCTION(S): Program administrator and certifier.

CERTIFICATION

PROGRAM(S) BEGUN: 1962

STANDARDS

USED: ADC standards available from ADC.
Also uses ASME, ISO and ANSI standards in laboratory accreditation.

CERTIFICATION

- ACTIVITIES:
1. Approves manufacturers' testing laboratories and independent testing laboratories.
 2. Requires that data obtained in an approved laboratory be submitted and evaluated by a Rating Subcommittee of the ADC Engineering Committee.
 3. Has its own certification seal and publishes approved manufacturer/product directories.
 4. Requires that if there are substantiated challenges to the ability of a product to meet ADC requirements that the product be submitted for independent laboratory testing.
 5. Requires triennial check tests of certified products at an ADC approved laboratory under the supervision of the ADC Engineering Consultant.
 6. Has a formal appeals procedure.

COMMENTS: None.

AVAILABILITY OF SERVICES: Open to all.

COST OF SERVICES: Fixed fee schedule.

PRODUCTS

CERTIFIED: Grilles, registers, diffusers, and air terminal devices (mixing boxes).

ORGANIZATION NAME: Air Movement and Control Association, Inc.

ACRONYM: AMCA

NATURE OF

ORGANIZATION: Not-for-profit trade association founded in 1955 with a membership of over 100 and a staff of 14.

ADDRESS: 30 West University Drive, Arlington Heights, IL 60004

TELEPHONE NUMBER: 312-394-0150

LOCATIONS OF TESTING FACILITIES: Uses AMCA laboratory in Arlington Heights, IL as well as approved independent laboratories, and approved laboratories of the manufacturers.

PURPOSE: To develop accurate and reliable testing procedures, to serve as a communications center on all matters related to the air movement and control industry, and to compile information of use to the industry.

CERTIFICATION

FUNCTION(S): Program administrator and certifier.

CERTIFICATION

PROGRAM(S) BEGUN: 1963

STANDARDS

USED: Uses AMCA Standards available from AMCA.

CERTIFICATION

- ACTIVITIES:
1. Approves testing laboratories and manufacturers' testing facilities.
 2. Reviews test data submitted from an approved laboratory on preproduction or production samples.
 3. Requires precertification check at the AMCA Testing Laboratory of one sample of each new product line from the sample initially tested.
 4. Requires production check when preproduction sample is tested.
 5. Requires manufacturing check of a sample of each licensed product line at AMCA Testing Laboratory every 3 years.
 6. Requires challenge test when test data from an AMCA approved laboratory indicates that a product did not perform within specified tolerances.
 7. Authorizes the use of its mark and publishes an approved product directory.
 8. Has a formal appeals procedure.

COMMENTS: None.

AVAILABILITY OF SERVICES: Open to all.

COST OF SERVICES: License fee based on dollar volume of licensed products shipped. Fixed fees for AMCA Testing Laboratory tests. Staff travel expenses based on associated costs incurred by Staff Engineer.

PRODUCTS

CERTIFIED: Centrifugal fans; propeller fans; axial fans; power roof ventilators; ceiling ventilators; evaporative coolers; louvers, dampers & shutters; air curtains, ceiling fans.

NO. OF FACTORIES/

FIRMS LISTED/CERTIFIED: 86 firms.

PRODUCT

DIRECTORIES: "Directory of Licensed Products", Publication 261, is free.

PROGRAM

DOCUMENTATION

AVAILABLE: Publications 211, 311 and 511 are available for a fee. These publications describe the certified ratings programs for air performance, air moving devices, and air control devices respectively.

ORGANIZATION NAME: All-America Rose Selections

ACRONYM: AARS

NATURE OF

ORGANIZATION: Non-profit research corporation founded in 1938 with a membership of 17.

ADDRESS: P.O. Box 218, Shenandoah, IA 51601

TELEPHONE NUMBER: 712-246-2884

LOCATIONS OF TESTING FACILITIES: AARS has 23 gardens throughout the U.S.

PURPOSE: To improve roses for the gardening public.

CERTIFICATION

FUNCTION(S): Program administrator and certifier.

CERTIFICATION

PROGRAM(S) BEGUN: 1938

STANDARDS

USED: Uses AARS guidelines and official scoring forms.

CERTIFICATION

- ACTIVITIES:
1. Selects official test gardens and demonstration gardens.
 2. Requires judges to be trained with periodic refresher courses and to have served a two year apprenticeship.
 3. Requires a two year growing test in 23 test gardens throughout the U.S.
 4. Requires a two thirds affirmative ballot by membership to receive AARS designation. Total roses designated cannot exceed five per year.
 5. Requires approval of proposed names of roses.
 6. Authorizes the use of the AARS designation and issues appropriate other recognitions of the award.
 7. Conducts a publicity campaign for winners.

COMMENTS: Does not have a formal appeals procedure. Introducers donate award winners to 112 AARS approved public rose gardens.

AVAILABILITY OF SERVICES: Open to varieties of roses which have not been sold in the U.S. for outside planting and whose hybridizer or grower is located in the U.S.

COST OF SERVICES: Fixed fee schedule based on number of entries.

PRODUCTS

CERTIFIED: Tea and hybrid roses; floribunda and polyantha roses; climbing, pillar, shrub and ground cover roses; roses; miniature roses.

NO. OF FACTORIES/

FIRMS LISTED/CERTIFIED: Over 40% of the roses sold in the U.S. are AARS winners.

PRODUCT

DIRECTORIES: "Roses are for You" is available free from AARS.

ORGANIZATION NAME: All-America Selections

ACRONYM: AAS

NATURE OF

ORGANIZATION: Nonprofit organization founded in 1932 with a staff of 3 at the headquarters office.

ADDRESS: 628 Executive Drive, Willowbrook, IL 60521

TELEPHONE NUMBER: 312-655-0010

LOCATIONS OF TESTING FACILITIES: Entries are tested in a number of locations throughout the country.

PURPOSE: To evaluate new seed-grown flowers and vegetables from around the world for home garden performance.

CERTIFICATION

FUNCTION(S): Program administrator and certifier.

CERTIFICATION

PROGRAM(S) BEGUN: 1932

STANDARDS

USED: Uses the evaluation of judges who are experts in the horticultural field.

CERTIFICATION

- ACTIVITIES:
1. Entries must never have been sold anywhere in the world.
 2. Producers must submit seeds, photos and the name of the best of its class variety that is closest to the entry. Identity of the producer is protected.
 3. Entries and comparison seed are sent to judges who grow them side by side. Judges score entries and then send them to an accounting firm for impartial tally.
 4. The directors of AAS determine winners on the basis of score.
 5. Producers are allowed up to three years to produce an adequate amount of seed.
 6. When the seed supply is adequate, winners are announced.
 7. Publizes winners and authorizes the use of its logo.
 8. There is a "Gentlemen's Agreement" that other producers will not produce seeds of other producers' winners for a period of time.

COMMENTS: No formal appeals procedure.

AVAILABILITY OF SERVICES: Open to all.

COST OF SERVICES: Fixed fees plus a percentage of the profits from winning entries.

PRODUCTS

CERTIFIED: Seed-grown flowers, and seed-grown vegetables.

PURPOSE: To promote the use of, to develop standards for, and to serve as the technical information center on architectural fenestration and "envelop" products.

CERTIFICATION

FUNCTIONS: Program administrator. Associated Laboratories serves as program validator.

CERTIFICATION

PROGRAM(S) BEGUN: 1962

STANDARDS

USED: Uses ANSI/AAMA standards which are available from ANSI or AAMA. Also uses HUD standards which are available from HUD.

CERTIFICATION

ACTIVITIES:

1. Accredits laboratories thru AAMA Research Foundation.
2. Requires initial testing by an accredited laboratory and periodic testing by the program validator.
3. Requires initial and periodic evaluation of a producer's Q.A. system.
4. Authorizes the use of its mark and publishes approved product/manufacturer directories.
5. Issues certificates of approval.
6. Has a formal appeals procedure.

COMMENTS: This program is accredited by ANSI

AVAILABILITY OF SERVICES: Open to all.

ORGANIZATION NAME: American Association of Medical Milk Commissions, Inc.

ACRONYM: AAMMC

NATURE OF

ORGANIZATION: Professional organization founded in 1903 with a membership of 35.

ADDRESS: 1824 North Hillhurst Ave., Los Angeles, CA 90027

TELEPHONE NUMBER: 213-664-2466

PURPOSE: To develop and adopt uniform methods and standards for the production of certified milk.

CERTIFICATION

FUNCTION(S): Individual Medical Milk Commissions certify.

CERTIFICATION

PROGRAM(S) BEGUN: 1893; Organized into one association in 1903.

STANDARDS

USED: "Methods and Standards for the Production of Certified Milk," augmented by any requirements of local commissions. Also uses USDA standards and test methods, and APHA methods.

CERTIFICATION

ACTIVITIES:

1. Approves Medical Milk Commissions and may itself serve as a Medical Milk Commission.
2. Individual milk commissions require testing and inspection on the manufacturer's premises.
3. Requires herd identification and has herd management standards.
4. Requires employees to be under physician supervision.
5. Authorizes the use of its mark.
6. Has a formal appeals procedure.

AVAILABILITY OF SERVICES: Open to all domestic producers.

CERTIFIED

PRODUCTS: Milk, cream, skim (nonfat) milk, cottage cheese, kefir, buttermilk, and others as may be designated.

DOCUMENTATION

AVAILABLE: "Methods and Standards" is available free upon request.

ORGANIZATIONAL NAME: American Bureau of Shipping

ACRONYM: ABS

NATURE OF

ORGANIZATION: Not-for-profit ship classification society founded in 1862 with a staff of 1685 employees in 92 countries.

ADDRESS: 65 Broadway, New York, NY 10006

TELEPHONE NUMBER: 212-440-0300

LOCATIONS OF

INSPECTION FACILITIES: Principal offices: New York City, NY; San Francisco, CA; Newport News, VA; Genoa, Italy; London, England; Rio de Janeiro, Brazil; Singapore, Singapore; Tokyo, Japan; Cleveland, OH; New Orleans, LA; Sydney, Australia; Manama, Bahrain; Durban, South Africa; Toronto, Canada.

PURPOSE: To establish and administer standards (termed rules) for the design, construction and periodic survey of merchant ships and other marine structures.

CERTIFICATION

FUNCTION(S): Program administrator and certifier.

CERTIFICATION

PROGRAM(S) BEGUN: 1870

STANDARDS

USED: Uses ABS standards which are available from ABS. Also uses ASTM, ATP, CSC, ISO, ANSI, CIM, UIC, IMDG, IMO, RID, ADR, TCT, and ASME standards and requirements.

CERTIFICATION

ACTIVITIES: Certification programs consist of:

- 1) Review of detail plans and design data for compliance with rules or other appropriate standards.
- 2) Material and equipment for vital structural and machinery components.
- 3) Construction inspection.
- 4) Attendance during testing.
- 5) In service inspection at periodic intervals.
- 6) Damage and repair assessment.

AVAILABILITY OF SERVICES: Open to all.

COST OF SERVICES: Fixed fee schedule.

PRODUCTS

CERTIFIED: Ships, mobile offshore drilling and production units, fixed offshore structures, workboats, yachts, containers, cranes, cargo handling equipment engines, machinery and materials.

NO. OF FACTORIES/

FIRMS LISTED/CERTIFIED: ABS certifications cover 14,900 vessels and 1,000,000 cargo containers.

PROGRAM

DOCUMENTATION

AVAILABLE: ABS publishes a classification register, rules for building and classifying vessels and other products and structures, rules for the certification of cargo containers and nondestructive inspection of hull welds, guides, guidance manuals and other requirements.

ORGANIZATION NAME: American Dental Association

ACRONYM: ADA

NATURE OF

ORGANIZATION: Professional society of dentists founded in 1859 with over 133,000 members and a staff of 370.

ADDRESS: 211 East Chicago Ave., Chicago IL 60611

TELEPHONE NUMBER: 312-440-2567

PURPOSE: To encourage the improvement of the health of the public and to promote the art and science of dentistry.

CERTIFICATION

FUNCTION(S): Program administrator and certifier.

STANDARDS

USED: Uses ADA specifications which are available from ADA.

CERTIFICATION

- ACTIVITIES:
1. Requires the submittal of an application which includes: (a) the physical properties as obtained by standard test methods, (b) a brief description of the test apparatus if different from that described in the specification, (c) data covering every provision of the original specification; with names of the observers and dates of the tests, (d) specimens of all labels, guarantees and instruction.
 2. Requires self-certification by the manufacturer that the product meets the specification.
 3. Requires testing of sample obtained on the open market by ADA.
 4. Authorizes the use of the ADA Seal of Certification and publishes approved product lists.

COMMENTS: Does not have a formal appeals procedure.

AVAILABILITY OF SERVICES: Open to U.S. manufacturers of products sold in the U.S. and to U.S. distributors of imported products.

PRODUCTS

CERTIFIED: Dental materials, dental instruments, dental equipment.

PRODUCT

DIRECTORIES: Certified products are published in the "Lists of Certified Dental Material, Instrument, and Equipment," the "Journal of the American Dental Association," and in "Dentists Desk Reference."

PROGRAM

DOCUMENTATION

AVAILABLE: Copies of official specifications of the ADA and certification forms are available free upon request.

ORGANIZATION NAME: American Die Casting Institute

ACRONYM: ADCI

NATURE OF

ORGANIZATION: Trade association founded in 1928 with a staff of 9 and a membership of 250.

ADDRESS: 2340 Des Plaines Ave., Des Plaines, IL 60018

ORGANIZATION NAME: American Gas Association

ACRONYM: AGA

NATURE OF

ORGANIZATION: Nonprofit trade association founded in 1918 and composed of approximately 300 gas transmission and distribution companies accounting for 85% of all gas delivered in the U.S.

ADDRESS: 8501 East Pleasant Valley Road, Cleveland, OH 44131

TELEPHONE NUMBER: 216-524-4900

LOCATIONS OF TESTING FACILITIES: Cleveland, Ohio and Los Angeles, CA.

PURPOSE: To serve as a clearinghouse for gas energy information for the public, as a catalyst in technical and energy policy matters for the gas industry, and as a spokesman on national issues for its member companies.

CERTIFICATION

FUNCTION(S): Program administrator and certifier.

CERTIFICATION

PROGRAM(S) BEGUN: 1925

STANDARDS

USED: Uses ANSI standards available from AGA or ANSI or AGA standards developed for products not covered by a national standards. Also uses NFPA, NEC, UL, HUD, and DOE standards.

CERTIFICATION

ACTIVITIES:

1. Requires a review of construction and tolerance information.
2. Requires testing at AGA laboratories.
3. Requires inspection of factory and quality control procedures.

TELEPHONE NUMBER: API Headquarters: 202-682-8000
API Production Office: 214-741-6791

PURPOSE: To maintain cooperation between government and industry on all matters of national concern, to foster foreign and domestic trade in petroleum products, to promote the interests of the petroleum industry, to promote the mutual improvement of members and the study of the arts and sciences connected with the petroleum industry.

CERTIFICATION FUNCTION(S): To assure the API that each licensee's facility is capable of producing products in conformance with applicable specifications.

CERTIFICATION PROGRAM(S) BEGUN: API Pipe Audits - 1980
API Quality Audits - tentatively late 1985

STANDARDS USED: Uses API Standards - available from API
These standards reference ASTM, ASME, ASM, NACE, AWS, AISI, and other standards.

CERTIFICATION ACTIVITIES: Licensing Pipe Manufacturers

1. API requires the submittal of an application with proof that the product conforms to one or more API specifications.
2. API requires references from representative users in the oil industry.
3. API selects a surveyor to audit each manufacturers facilities..
4. Authorized the use of the API Monogram and issues a License Agreement for each specification for which applicant is authorized, 3 Year License Duration.

COMMENTS: Appeals - An interested party may appeal any API standards action. Appeals shall be directed to the Director, API Production Department and handled by the General Committee of the Production Department with a further right of appeal to the API Management Committee. Competing suppliers or manufacturers of the product or service to which the standard applies or might apply may not be involved in appeals. The General Committee and the Management Committee may convene appeals boards to hear and act on appeals.

AVAILABILITY OF SERVICES: Open to all interested parties.

3.3. ORGANIZATIONAL INDEX BY PRODUCT CERTIFIED

PRODUCTS ARE LISTED BY MAJOR GROUP AND BY INDIVIDUAL PRODUCT SINCE DIFFERENT ORGANIZATIONS CATEGORIZED THE PRODUCTS THEY CERTIFY IN DIFFERENT WAYS. FOR EXAMPLE, SOME ORGANIZATIONS INDICATED THAT THEY CERTIFY PLUMBING PRODUCTS IN GENERAL AND OTHER ORGANIZATIONS LISTED THE SPECIFIC PLUMBING PRODUCTS THAT THEY CERTIFY. TO DETERMINE ALL ORGANIZATIONS WHICH MIGHT CERTIFY A SPECIFIC PRODUCT IT IS NECESSARY TO LOOK UNDER THAT PRODUCT AS WELL AS THE MAJOR GROUP WHICH IS LISTED NEXT TO THE PRODUCT.

11. ABSTRACT (A 200-word or less factual summary of most significant information. If document includes a significant bibliography or literature survey, mention it here) This directory presents information from 109 private sector organizations in the United States which engage in product certification activities. Entries describe the type and purpose of each organization, the nature of the activity, products certified, standards used, certification requirements, availability and cost of services, and other relevant details. This directory is part of an ongoing NBS effort to establish and maintain a comprehensive database on standards, regulations, certification programs and related information. This material has been compiled to meet the needs of government, industry, and the public for information on private sector product certification programs in accordance with the requirements of the U.S. Trade Agreements Act of 1979.

NBS Technical Publications

Periodical

Journal of Research—The Journal of Research of the National Bureau of Standards reports NBS research and development in those disciplines of the physical and engineering sciences in which the Bureau is active. These include physics, chemistry, engineering, mathematics, and computer sciences. Papers cover a broad range of subjects, with major emphasis on measurement methodology and the basic technology underlying standardization. Also included from time to time are survey articles on topics closely related to the Bureau's technical and scientific programs. As a special service to subscribers each issue contains complete citations to all recent Bureau publications in both NBS and non-NBS media. Issued six times a year.

Nonperiodicals

Monographs—Major contributions to the technical literature on various subjects related to the Bureau's scientific and technical activities.

Handbooks—Recommended codes of engineering and industrial practice (including safety codes) developed in cooperation with interested industries, professional organizations, and regulatory bodies.

Special Publications—Include proceedings of conferences sponsored by NBS, NBS annual reports, and other special publications appropriate to this grouping such as wall charts, pocket cards, and bibliographies.

Applied Mathematics Series—Mathematical tables, manuals, and studies of special interest to physicists, engineers, chemists, biologists, mathematicians, computer programmers, and others engaged in scientific and technical work.

National Standard Reference Data Series—Provides quantitative data on the physical and chemical properties of materials, compiled from the world's literature and critically evaluated. Developed under a worldwide program coordinated by NBS under the authority of the National Standard Data Act (Public Law 90-396).

NOTE: The Journal of Physical and Chemical Reference Data (JPCRD) is published quarterly for NBS by the American Chemical Society (ACS) and the American Institute of Physics (AIP). Subscriptions, reprints, and supplements are available from ACS, 1155 Sixteenth St., NW, Washington, DC 20056.

Building Science Series—Disseminates technical information developed at the Bureau on building materials, components, systems, and whole structures. The series presents research results, test methods, and performance criteria related to the structural and environmental functions and the durability and safety characteristics of building elements and systems.

Technical Notes—Studies or reports which are complete in themselves but restrictive in their treatment of a subject. Analogous to monographs but not so comprehensive in scope or definitive in treatment of the subject area. Often serve as a vehicle for final reports of work performed at NBS under the sponsorship of other government agencies.

Voluntary Product Standards—Developed under procedures published by the Department of Commerce in Part 10, Title 15, of the Code of Federal Regulations. The standards establish nationally recognized requirements for products, and provide all concerned interests with a basis for common understanding of the characteristics of the products. NBS administers this program as a supplement to the activities of the private sector standardizing organizations.

Consumer Information Series—Practical information, based on NBS research and experience, covering areas of interest to the consumer. Easily understandable language and illustrations provide useful background knowledge for shopping in today's technological marketplace.

Order the above NBS publications from: Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, DC 20402.

Order the following NBS publications—FIPS and NBSIR's—from the National Technical Information Service, Springfield, VA 22161.

Federal Information Processing Standards Publications (FIPS PUB)—Publications in this series collectively constitute the Federal Information Processing Standards Register. The Register serves as the official source of information in the Federal Government regarding standards issued by NBS pursuant to the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949 as amended, Public Law 89-306 (79 Stat. 1127), and as implemented by Executive Order 11717 (38 FR 12315, dated May 11, 1973) and Part 6 of Title 15 CFR (Code of Federal Regulations).

NBS Interagency Reports (NBSIR)—A special series of interim or final reports on work performed by NBS for outside sponsors (both government and non-government). In general, initial distribution is handled by the sponsor; public distribution is by the National Technical Information Service, Springfield, VA 22161, in paper copy or microfiche form.
